

A NOTEBOOK FOR THOUGHTFUL READING

before anyone explains it.*

Before the Sermon: Sitting With Scripture is a guided reading notebook designed to help people engage Scripture slowly, thoughtfully, and without intimidation. It is not a devotional, commentary, or theology guide. It does not explain passages or tell readers what to believe.

Instead, it offers a structured way to sit with the text, notice what is written, reflect honestly, and build confidence as a reader — before sermons, summaries, or conclusions. The notebook is meant to be used alongside the Bible, not instead of it.

THIS NOTEBOOK DOES NOT

- Interpret Scripture for you
- Push application or action
- Assume belief or expertise

ITS PURPOSE IS TO

- Change how you read
- Train attention and patience
- Allow meaning to surface slowly
- Build honest reading confidence

Confusion, silence, and “I don’t know” are valid outcomes.

Calm, not authoritative · Invitational, not instructional · Reflective, not prescriptive · Gentle, but serious

BEFORE THE SERMON
A reading companion, not a replacement for sermons.
